From the Editor's Desk

Welcome to the end year edition of Kitengela Biznet. As a business observer, it has been quite a challenging year in the business sense with slow economic growth and the laying off and downsizing of workers in the various sectors and too little money circulating in the market.

But then, we the business community struggled on and yes, also hoped to uplift our life standards and we did.

Due to some un-avoidable reasons, this edition will cover the months of December and January 2020 with the next edition hitting the streets in February 2020.

We wish to thank our many clients for their invaluable help and support. If we failed to meet your expectations in one way or another then we do offer unreserved apology and assure you that next year there is bound to be major changes as regards Biznet in a very positive sense.

And finally, to those who celebrate the time of Christmas, Kitengela Biznet wishes you, your loved ones and your businesses a blessed, happy, safe, and joyous festive season.

To those who do not celebrate Christmas—for whatever reason— Kitengela Biznet wishes you too a time of happiness, safety, and peace with your families, loved ones and businesses.

May the year ahead bring much-needed peace and sense of satisfaction in your business enterprises and may 2020 bring you only good things.

Autism / Tawahudi

Felicity Nyambura Ngungu

Challenges in Dealing with Autism in the Country?

ASK relies on benefactors to run its programs. Financing –as always- is therefore our major challenge as rarely do our books balance. Our other major challenge is fighting an existing mind set among our rural communities who have a set belief that Autism is Witchcraft.

ASK is active in the urban and peri - urban areas and is yet to fully trickle down to the county levels. In many cases, Autism children need to have a special diet; this has a particular challenge as the entire family needs to adjust accordingly in their feeding arrangements resulting to particular economic challenges.

What do you consider are your Major Successes?

Our major success is that we have created awareness, and we are able to guide parents and guardians as appropriate. This awareness however is yet to trickled down to the common Mwananchi with the resultant change in the warped belief system.

Where do you see Autism Globally in the Next 5 Years?

I cannot comment on issues of global, but for Kenya, we hope to gain much through the advocacy and lobbying. It is our prayer that soon the Government will fully start funding these initiatives.

What is Your Story?

I am Felicity Nyambura Ndu'ngu, a mother and a grandmother. I pride myself that in 2003, I founded the Autistic society of Kenya (ASK). Today, ASK as a parent - driven initiative is a fully fledged organisation with office and permanent staff and has proved invaluable as a first line of call for concerned persons tackling Autism in their families.

What is Autism?

Autism (Tawahudi in Kiswahili) is a neurodevelopmental disorder with biological basis. It is classified as a developmental disorder which is a category of disability for persons who are cognitively impaired. The real cause of autism is yet to be discerned, but research continues.

Some of the signs and symptoms to look out for Children with Autism are:

- Lack or delay in Spoken Language
- Little or no eye contact
- Repetitive use of Language and /or motor mannerisms
- Lack of interest in peer relationships
- Persistent fixation on parts of objects.

What are the functions of the Autism Society of Kenya?

- ASK has been vocal in Lobbying and advocacy for appropriate policies and legal frame works and their implementation strategies at the national and County levels
- Initiating Autism orientated units in all public schools in Kenya
- Assessment of children with the help of medics
- Counselling parents, guardians and families
- Community outreach programs in several counties

- Training and retraining of teachers, occupational therapists and health practitioners as well as Placements of the assessed children into appropriate programs.

- Organizing capacity building programs and seminars for parents/guardians/ siblings and stakeholders.

Why are you specially involved in Autism?

I am a grandmother of a young adult named Andrew Safari Ogolla; I have therefore can vouch for the challenges of having an autistic individual at familial level. This explains my passion and endeavour in attempting to tackle Autism.

Does Autism Affect a particular Segment of Kenyan Society?

Autism affects the populations all over the world, and has not been tied down to a particular race or community or any particular economic bloc. Interestingly, it affects more males than female at the ratio of 4:1.

Is Autism passed down genetically?

Research on this angle is still not conclusive.

We wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year 2020!!

What is the best indicator of a person who will become successful one day?

1. Luck. Many think successful people are just lucky. So they wait to get lucky. And keep waiting. Successful people expect to get lucky. So they prepare for it and snatch it when it pops up.
 2. Vision. Many think successful people have great visions. So they dream great dreams. And keep on dreaming. Successful people do have vision. And expect to achieve it. So they go for it.
 3. Plans. Many think successful people plan in great detail. So they wait for a complete plan before launching. Successful people do have plans. And expect to achieve them. So they launch and revise on the go.
 4. Perseverance. Many think successful people just persevered more. So they keep thrashing to achieve. Successful people do persevere. And expect results. So they persevere in what brings it.
 5. Intelligence. Many think successful people are the smartest in the room. So they give up because they're not. Successful people expect they're smart enough. And don't waste time determining if they're not.
 6. Education. Many think successful people went to the right schools. Got the right degrees. Successful people expect to be successful in addition to education. So they fill in the gaps continually.
 7. Money. Many think successful people are somehow given money. So they give up because they weren't. Successful people expect to find the money they need to be successful. And eventually do.
 8. Different. Many think successful people are just different than they are. So they settle for mediocre. Successful people expect to be successful. So they never settle and they accomplish the extraordinary.
- So what is the best indicator of a person who will be successful?
You'll be successful when you believe you will and never stop acting like it.

Machakos: The Place to Be...

Machakos County's People's Park was the place to be in mid-December 2019 as it played host during the launch of the Machakos Tourism circuit. The Guest of honour was the Machakos Deputy Governor Jeremiah Munguti. Kitengela Biznet covered the function.

During the launch, the county's top leaders urged Kenyans from across the counties to embrace local tourism by visiting famous Tourist sites of the County.

The Deputy Governor asked for close collaboration to improve the tourism sector between the public and private sector. In his address, he pledged the County Government's full support in ensuring that the health sector was well taken care off. He also pledged to allocate more resources to the Ministry of Roads to improve access to all parts of the County.

The County's Chief Executive Committee in charge of Tourism Ruth Mutua fronted Machakos as a great destination for people from across the board.

On his part, the Chief Officer in the department, Victor Muniafu who spoke during the launch urged Kenyans to visit and enjoy the site and sounds of Machakos County.

Victor Muniafu: "I urge all Kenyans from across the Board to visit the various great attractions in this County and be able to enjoy the countryside at an affordable option".

Ruth Mutua: "Machakos County boasts of a modern stadium, outstanding security, a modern Hospital and more so great hotels spread throughout the County".

Did you know that:

> In 1887, Machakos was established as the first administrative centre of the colonial Kenyan territory? But was disregarded on account of lack of space due to the hilly country side?

> Machakos is a corruption of the name 'Masaku' who is considered the fore father of the Kamba Community?

> Wood carving is the biggest publicity vehicle for the Akamba People? And that wood craft has many untold secrets?

> The Father of Wood carving within the Kamba community is one Mutisya Munge. (1892-1936)?

> That the key County Tourist attractions for Religious Tourism include the Komarock shrine, Divine Mercy Shrine, Katoloni Prayer Center, AIC Mumbuni, ACK Kamuthanga, Vicarage House, Makindu Mosque and pre-colonial Hindu Shrine which are places for spiritual nourishments and pilgrimage?

> For Entertainment, Machakos People's Park boasts of perfect location, security and an Amphitheatre which can host a capacity of 5,000 people.

> For Sports tourism, especially Rugby and Football; Machakos Stadium is the place to be?

> For Film/Photography- Machawood-the Machakos version of Hollywood is the future of the entertainment industry in Kenya.

> That for Agro-tourism, Kamuthanga Fish Farm, Kivyatu Fish Farm and Bishop Masika Farm are the model farms.

> For Wildlife viewing, Hyena Caves and Rocks in Lukenya are a must visit?

Noonkopir cries out as dumpsite overflows

A public health crisis is looming in Noonkopir village in Kajiado East Sub County as solid waste overflows from the dumpsite. Heaps of garbage, polythene bags, flies and water and stench characterizes the area. The Perimeter of the 2.5 acre Landfill has collapsed as private garbage collectors continue to dump waste at a fee.

“Our houses have become uninhabitable due to stench. Kajiado County Government authorities should come to our rescue. Mr Josphat Murira, a resident said. Residential owners say business has gone down and tenants are fleeing the area.

The Governor's Grand Scheme -2020

Kajiado Governor, his Deputy and Kajiado County Assembly Speaker join traditional dancers in a jig during the Jamhuri Day fete held at the Kitengela D.O Grounds last year.

- The improvement of access to healthcare through the now-much-appreciated Mbuzi Moja, Afya Bora programme.
- Registering 4,500 this year up from 3,550 families in 2019.
- Working with several stakeholders to organize free medical camps around the county.
- Four medical camps held at Kajiado Referral Hospital, Mosiro, Kimana and Oloitokitok. Over 3,000 residents screened and treated.
- Impactful Fistula surgeries conducted.
- The Vijana Tujajiri Programme already yielding fruits.
- The stories of some of our youth are a testimony that it is possible to change our personal stories.
- The ambitious programme to ensure we have decent retail markets.
- Cooperatives to be used to guarantee short term financing to boost and expand women's businesses.
- On-going talks with the Export Processing Zone Authority (EPZA) to have the Parastatal transfer its fresh water pipeline to the County Government.
- A garbage collection initiative Taka ni Mali campaign. Through partnership with youth groups to recycle garbage in ways which create business and individual revenues for the people involved.
- Operation Keep Kajiado Clean (OKKC)- a monthly clean-up campaign in the urban centres.

Wananchi follow proceedings during the Jamhuri Day fete held at the Kitengela D.O Grounds last year.

Governor, Joseph ole Lenku.

12 Reasons why your grandparents were able to accumulate wealth better than you a. They didn't spend money on cable/satellite TV, cell phones, internet access, monthly subscriptions for video games or any of the other necessities people spend money on today.

b. Most meals were prepared at home. At work, you brought your lunch with you.

c. Taking the family out to a restaurant for dinner was a special treat, and usually planned in advance. It was rare. It was never because you "didn't feel like cooking today".

d. The idea of paying for bottled water would seem ridiculous.

e. They didn't have to buy and drink overpriced coffee or Pizzas.

f. They didn't buy junk they didn't really need unless they were willing to part with their hard-earned CASH for it. Credit card use was unthinkable.

g. Anything they had to finance, such as a car or a house, was accompanied with a large down payment. Loans were rare and no mobile loans existed. They didn't buy a bigger house than they needed, or a more expensive car than they needed.

h. No impulse buying. No online shopping. Selection was limited to what was locally available, and you had to physically go look for it and pay cash. Spending money required effort.

i. Less spending on entertainment in general. Most homes didn't have a TV.

j. Energy costs were lower because you didn't have a million devices in your home using electricity. You turned lights off when you left the room.

k. Saying "I can't afford it" was perfectly acceptable. You didn't need to keep up with the Jones.

l. They shopped by price, not by payment.

It's just as easy to save money today as it was back then. You just have to have the will to do it.

9 Habits of people who are never broke

As a former financial advisor, it is easy to separate the savers from the spenders. It didn't ultimately come down to the habits. The habits were a by-product of character.

1. People who are never broke view money as a good thing. They don't curse money. They don't view money as the root of all of their problems. They like money. They welcome it as a tool. When they see a penny on the street, they pick it up and have gratitude for finding money.
2. They consistently save money. They have discipline. Someone who is never broke always has savings. Many people get their salary and spend it all before the next salary.

3. They usually have a few side hustles whether it's selling Mitumba T-shirts or used shoes in their offices.
4. They invest.
5. They spend very little on eating out. When you look at bank statements of people who aren't broke, there are usually very little expenditure on things like fast food and clutter (pointless furnishings for their homes.) They don't hyper consume.
6. They are usually into fitness. Being fit takes discipline. You can see how that rolls over into being good with money.

7. They live well below their means. They have learned to view material wants and desires as low-importance temptations.
 8. Some of them can be compulsive and anxious. They scrutinize every detail on their statements and question every fee.
 9. They don't possess the never/always belief system. E.g, "I always have the worst luck." or "I never get what I want." They understand that they control their outcomes.
- Where do you place yourself?

Bad Predictions -Compiled by Terry Mbata

The following are quotations from the past that haunt their speakers today:

- a. "It will be years -- not in my time -- before a woman will become Prime Minister." -- Margaret Thatcher, 1974.
- b. "Drill for oil? You mean drill into the ground to try and find oil? You're crazy." -- Workers whom Edwin L. Drake tried to enlist to his project to drill for oil in 1859.
- c. This 'Telephone' has too many shortcomings to be seriously considered as a means of communication. The device is inherently of no value to us. -Western Union internal memo, 1876
- d. The radio has no future! -Lord Kelvin, British Mathematician (1897)
- e. I think there is a world market for maybe five computers.

-Thomas Watson, Chairman of IBM, 1943

f. There is no reason anyone would want a computer in their home. Ken Olso , President, Chairman and founder of Digital Equipment Corp., 1977

g. 640Kb ought to be enough for anybody.-Bill Gates, 1981

h. I believe in the horse. The automobile is merely a passing phenomenon. -Emperor Wilhelm II

i. Heavier-than-air flying machines are impossible.-Lord Kelvin, 1895

And Finally!

j. It is unlikely that a man will run the marathon in less than two hours in this century;-Paul Tergat- A Kenyan one time marathon champion 2004.

Over 20% of world population is Over weight or obese
Obesity leads to body acidity

"Every Single Person Who Has Cancer has a PH that is too ACIDIC."

Dr. Otto H. Warburg, won the Nobel Prize in 1931 for proving that cancer can't survive in an alkaline, oxygen rich environment but thrives in an acidic, low oxygen environment

Therefore Acidity is likely to lead to Cancer and Other Lifestyle diseases

Securex bequeaths scholarships

Securex CEO Mr. Tony Sahni (left) in jubilation with Securex scholarship beneficiaries with other staff after the awards.

Securex Agencies (K) Ltd has unveiled eight beneficiaries of its annual scholarship program.

The scholarship, which started seven years ago, as an employee recognition initiative has so far seen Securex invest more than seven million shillings to it. The beneficiaries of the program are children of the Securex guard force.

The beneficiaries will have their tuition fees catered for through the entirety of their secondary school curriculum. The bright but financially disadvantaged children who secured the scholarship were selected from more than 50 applicants from the Securex guard force.

The eight students, awarded in a colorful ceremony at the Securex head office, along riverside drive is the seventh cohort since the inception of the scholarship in 2014 which brings the total number of students who have benefitted from the programme to 38.

One of the beneficiaries Valentino Wangila who got 388 Hopes to become a journalist.

Speaking during the ceremony, the Securex CEO Mr. Tony Sahni lauded the students for their hard work and urged them to maintain the same hunger for success throughout their high school curriculum.

"You have all told us your hopes and dreams, and in that I see desire and ambition unbound. Thank you for allowing us to share this warm moment with you. Now that you have all promised to keep shining in high school; here" Said Mr. Sahni

How to check your spending during Holiday Seasons

Holiday seasons comes with high propensity to spend and if you are not careful you could make impulse purchases which you might regret and be forced to live in shoe string budget without breaking the Bank.

Create a Budget

Why is a budget important? Because with it, you can easily organize your expenses in terms of priorities and then only spend on your immediate needs. Now that technology is an important component of our lives, go ahead and graft your budget by creating a new spreadsheet on your phone.

Make a Shopping List and Follow It

If you walk into a supermarket without a shopping list, you are likely to buy items you don't need or hadn't planned for. However making a shopping list is not enough you need to practice strict adherence to it especially when tempted to buy things on impulse.

Pay in Cash

One of the best ways to stay within your holiday budget is to leave your credit card at home. It is easier to avoid the temptation of picking more items when you have cash. In addition you need to stop borrowing those additional loans from money lending apps which are easily accessible through your mobile phone.

Do your Research

Go to Google and do your research online and in essence compare and contrast with the best deals, go for the best bargains online and you might just see the difference in savings.

Go for Group Gifts

If you need to gift your loved ones, consider teaming up with others and contribute towards purchasing the present, for instance if you wish to surprise your parent with a dishwasher, you can organize with your brothers and sisters and share the cost of the item.

Find Alternative Ways to Celebrate

If you cannot afford to spoil your family or friends with gifts, don't be hard on yourself, there are many ways to celebrate that do not involve gifting like just showing up at events and just spending time with your loved ones.

Explore your creativity

Explore you tube and find ways of making small but cute stuff that will go a long way in making sure that you get the message across the desired family or friend.

Plan in Advance

How much would you have saved if you have set aside money for holiday spending every month since. Well, think about it and plan in advance?

Security in Africa - A prediction for 2020

By CEO Drive Today Security

The war on Jihadi Groups is bound to continue in 2020 with world powers increasingly and more openly getting involved on the continent. They been carrying out surveillances, training local forces and also even targeting these militant groups either directly or through proxies.

The Al Shabaab remains a potent headache in the horn of Africa and is bound to persist for a long foreseeable future.

In Southern Africa, another Jihadi Group, an offshoot of the Islamic State is also showing signs of curving out space in Northern Mozambique and by extension destabilizing the southern border regions.

But the main focal point will be in the Sahel -West Africa. The Jihadi Groups have been incessant in their operations in the Sahel region and have made signature moves deep in the neighbouring countries of Mali and Burkina Faso. But then, there has also been an increase in the number of forces from Europe and the US deployed to counter these threats.

But three things are key in these western assisted operations: One, the capacity of the local forces to hold their ground independently from the Jihadi attacks and two, whether these Europe and USA forces can win over the local communities and not be seen as invaders or occupiers.

Apart from the military action, what will also be expected to markedly visible will be the solid political and community- based approaches used when engaging the local communities.

Ironically, three African countries will continue to be in conflict but still will not be able to grab the world's attention.

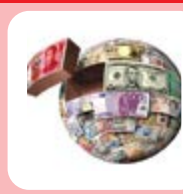

In Eastern Africa, there has been repeated international nudging for the signed peace agreement to hold in South Sudan. It is likely to hold but barely as personal interests and historical suspicion among the two major ethnic groups remain hard to dissolve.

In Central Africa, Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) a complex Gordian knot not so easily resolved. The recent attack there on peace keepers will likely to spur some action from the UN, but any action will only be limited in terms of results because of the sheer size of the country and the number of armed groups operating there.

The drone will determine the face of conflict in Africa in 2020.

7 Reasons why Kajiado is Nairobi's Bedroom...

When Kajiado County is said to be Nairobi's Bedroom, many people ask how? Kitengela Biznet's research reporter Kiptanui Kiptanui came up with the following reasons.

1. Palatial Homes and apartments of the who is who in government

Deputy President Dr. William Ruto, COTU Chairman Francis Atwoli, Former Cabinet Secretary Francis Muthaura and Governor Anne Mumbi Waiganjo, Politician Martha Karua, Othaya MP Mary Wambui, Citizen Radio Host Fred Obachi among others are said to have invested in Kajiado County. The DP is rumoured to be associated with

Oserere Flats in Rongai, Atwoli boasts of a palatial home in Kajiado Central. Muthaura resides in Rimpia, Governor Waiganjo is associated with an apartment in Kitengela. Karua and Wambui are said to own flats around Exciting-Rongai while Radio personality owns Fred Ranch in Kitengela. A good number of the home owners in urban areas work or do businesses in Nairobi County.

2. Ever growing traffic jam along Mombasa, Magadi and Ngong roads

When you tune to the radio every morning or evening hours you will hear traffic updates along roads heading to the city in the Sun. More often, Mombasa, Magadi and Ngong roads are nightmares due to the big population residing in the County. Most of them are Middle Class who drive to their businesses while others board the large number of Matatus plying the routes.

3. Affordable housing

Affordable residential houses have been seen many people preferring to live in Kajiado. You will find Single rooms ranging from KSh2,500 to KSh4,000, Bed sitters KSh4,000 to KSh8,000, One-bedroom at KSh6,000 to KSh15,000 while Two Bedrooms and Own compound at KSh10,000 to KSh30,000. Others who travelled to the city from upcountry prefer to sleep in hotels in Kajiado due to high cost in Nairobi. To mention but a few, Kaputiei Safari Hotel, The Smith Rongai, Maasai Lodge, Berra Inn Ngong have played host to the visitors.

4. Available land and space

Kajiado has large space for expansion compared to Kiambu and other neighbouring counties. This gives the residents and investors a better future for expansions. Currently, the towns are growing daily giving Kitengela room to join Isinya, Rongai growing towards Rimpia and Kiserian while Ngong moving towards Karen. Those practising farming have enough space to till and rear animals.

5. Security

Good security is a big influence to the masses staying here. The area enjoys the good services of the Police Service and the friendly Maasai community who are the original inhabitants of the County.

6. Learning Institutions

Top performing schools and other learning institutions around the county also has given many reasons to live in Kajiado. Kitengela Ebenezer Junior, Sunrise of Africa, Kiuni Preparatory, Anthena School, Ongata Academy, Olerai Schools among others post exemplary performance.

7. Affordable food

Fresh food from the farms in Kajiado and neighbouring counties is another reason Kenyans in Nairobi would tell you why they chose to reside in Kajiado. The food is available and above all, it is affordable. Not to say the sweet Nyama Choma in Kitengela, Rongai and Kiserian that pulls the crowds over the weekends. The picnic sites, hotels and bars for the revellers and those who love the finer things of life.
